A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year

TRUSTEES ADOPT FOUR MILLION DOLLAR
DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

(See Pages 9-11)

FROM THE PRESIDENT'S DESK

“WHEN YOUR CHILDREN are ready for college will your college be ready for them?” This question is headlined in newspapers and magazines, is flashed on television, and is highlighted in numerous conferences, in an effort to appraise the public of the great upsurge in enrollment just ahead and the need for expansion in order to provide for these young people. Many are asking what plans Bridgewater College is making for the decade of the sixties when the enrollment in colleges is supposed to double. The administration and trustees have been studying this problem for several years and are devising a roadmap for the future.

A conservative estimate indicates that Bridgewater should prepare to enroll 750 to 800 students by 1970 if we are to provide a higher education under Christian influences for those who logically belong in our institution. The trustees and the administration are in general agreement on the following guiding principles:

1. We have an obligation to assume some proportionate share of the great increase in enrollment in the years ahead in so far as we can provide adequate facilities.
2. We are committed to the principle of greater selectivity in admissions, stressing quality rather than quantity, and giving priority to those students qualified to profit most through attendance at Bridgewater. We shall avoid any mushroom growth.
3. With the aid of competent architects we have projected a Master Plan for the campus, which is designed to provide housing and other necessary facilities for an increasing number of students.
4. We are rethinking and revising our methods of fund raising in an attempt to secure the necessary funds for new buildings, endowment, and scholarships.
5. We have projected our future needs with respect to the teaching staff, and we are constantly on the alert to discover prospective teachers who possess the ability, scholarship, character, and personality that we desire at Bridgewater.
6. We are striving to deepen the spiritual tone of campus life in an effort to perpetuate those ideals, traits of character, modes of conduct, and seriousness of purpose that have made Bridgewater great.

The Bridgewater College that is to be calls for the unfailing loyalty of every alumnus, for your generous support, for your constructive suggestions, and for your prayers in behalf of your alma mater. Together we shall build a greater college.

The Bridgewater College Alumni Association is a member of the American Alumni Council and of the American College Public Relations Association.

The Bulletin of Bridgewater College is published six times a year by Bridgewater College, Bridgewater, Va. The Alumni Newslette is issued three times a year, April, August, and December, as a part of this series of publications. The Bulletin of Bridgewater College is entered as second class matter at the Post Office at Bridgewater, Va., under Act of Congress of August 24, 1912.

BRIDGEWATER BRIEFS

In Memoriam

MR. AND MRS. GALEN L. STINEBAUGH were killed August 14, 1958, in the crash of the KLM airliner off the coast of Ireland. They were enroute home from a summer tour of Europe during which they attended the convocation at Schwarzenau, Germany, held to commemorate the 250th anniversary of the founding of the Church of the Brethren there.

Professor Stinebaugh had been associate professor of music at Bridgewater since 1946 and carried a major responsibility in the B. C. Music Department. He directed the chapel choir and the men's and women's quartets. He also served as minister of music of the First Church of the Brethren in Harrisonburg.

Mrs. Ruth Whitmore Stinebaugh was a part-time instructor in voice at the college. She was also active in church and community affairs. In memory of Mrs. Stinebaugh, the Bridgewater Junior Women's Club has named the community nursery school "The Ruth Stinebaugh Kindergarten," which she helped found and in which she taught the first two years.

Our deepest sympathy is expressed to their two children, Mary Alice 12 and Annette Louise 10, and to all of the relatives and friends. The whole Bridgewater community was shocked and deeply grieved at this tragic loss. Memorial services were held on the evening of August 21 in the Bridgewater College Street Church of the Brethren and September 17 in the first college chapel.

The families and friends have established a Galen and Ruth Stinebaugh Memorial Fund in honor of Professor and Mrs. Stinebaugh. The income of the fund will be used for scholarships to worthy music students. Contributions to this fund should be so designated when sent to the treasurer of Bridgewater College.

B. C. Offering Evening Course

THE BRIDGEWATER COLLEGE CHEMISTRY Department is offering this year an evening course in advanced organic chemistry.

The course, listed in the college catalog as Chemistry 65 and 66, is a lecture course and deals with the theoretical and mechanistic aspects of organic reactions. The second semester it will deal with the special classes of organic compounds such as dyes, vitamins, steroids, isoprenoids, and alkaloids.

Dr. Thurman T. Grossnickle, assistant professor of chemistry at Bridgewater College, is the teacher of this special course. Dr. Grossnickle, besides his teaching load, is currently conducting several research projects supported by grants from the Research Corporation and the National Institutes of Health.

Enrollment At New High

BRIDGEWATER CONTINUED her growth this year with a total enrollment of 545 over last year's 526. The freshmen enrollment totals 187. At the same time there was a higher rate of returning upper classmen, indicating the school's greater holding power.

The present student body is composed of 355 men and 190 women, or 366 resident and 179 non-resident students coming from 12 states, District of Columbia, and three foreign countries. In the latter group is Miss Amelia Alvizaki, Athens, Greece, who is at Bridgewater for two years of study before returning to her native land to teach English.

Included in this year's student body are approximately seventeen former Bridgewater students. Miss Louise Sayre, a missionary nurse in India, returned to continue her education. Three men returned from alternative service, three women from BVS, several transferred back from other colleges and returned from the armed service. Miss Joan Mullendore, Hagerstown, Md., returned to the campus after a year's study in Switzerland as part of the International Christian Youth Exchange.

Men's Dorm Underway

GROUND-BREAKING CEREMONIES for the new men's dormitory, now under construction, were held on September 8 with President Bowman and others officially turning over the first sod. In the picture are shown Mr. Shrum, contractor, Mr. Davis, architect, President Bowman, Mr. Gordon, student senate president, and Mr. I. C. Senger, trustee board chairman.

The new dormitory, financed by a loan from the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the federal government, is being located on the northwest section of the campus, adjacent to the science building and the temporary North Hall Annex. On the basis of competitive bids which were opened August 28, Nielsen Construction Company was awarded the contract to construct the three-story building and began working almost immediately. The contract calls for completion by September 1, 1959, in time for occupancy the next school year.

The architectural plans call for a brick and cinder-block building to harmonize with the style of the science and Blue Ridge Hall buildings. The main entrance will face the south (College Street Church) and will have a portico supported by gleaming white columns.

The dormitory, housing 142 men, will be fireproof and be equipped with fire-emergency doors. In reality there will be three separate units, one on each floor with an apartment in each unit for the director of that unit. The ground floor will contain recreation and social facilities with laundry and service equipment. One of the major features of the new building will be the day-student center for men, to be located on the ground floor. Adequate parking areas are to be provided on the Third Street side of the dormitory.

Commenting editorially on Bridgewater's latest project, the Harrisonburg Daily News-Record, September 11, 1958, stated: "Ground-breaking for the new Bridgewater College dormitory is another step in the long-range development program of that highly regarded liberal arts college. Bridgewater has taken long strides in improving its physical plant in recent years, adding Blue Ridge Hall in 1959, a new science building in 1953 and, only this year, a new health and physical education building. Within the next five years, a new library and home economics building are planned. Congratulations thus are in order to this educational institution."

Five Seniors In Who's Who

FIVE SENIORS have been nominated to represent Bridgewater College in the 1958-59 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

Those students selected for this distinction are: Richard Gordon, New Carlisle, Ohio, student senate president and pre-ministerial student; Lavonne Ikenberry, Bridgewater, Va., a home economics major and member of many campus activities; Joseph L. Kinzie, Lake Wales, Fla., pre-medical student and debate leader; Joseph Quesenberry, Linwood, Md., pre-ministerial student majoring in history; and Sue Ann Rosseter, Baltimore, Md., B. C. Bee editor and an English-physical education major.

Glee Clubs In Concerts

THE COLLEGE GLEE CLUBS, under Professor Nelson T. Huffman, will give three performances of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," during December. On Sunday evening, December 7, they will sing in the Luray, Va., Baptist Church. On Friday evening, December 12, the oratorio will be presented in the Central Church of the Brethren, Roanoke. On Sunday evening, December 14, they will give their annual presentation of "The Messiah" in the College Street Church of the Brethren, Bridgewater.

Spiritual Life Institute Convenes February 10-12

BRIDGEWATER'S SIXTY-THIRD Annual Spiritual Life Institute, sponsored jointly by Bridgewater College and the Southeastern Regional Board, will convene on the B. C. campus Tuesday through Thursday, February 10-12, 1959.

The regional boards and committees will meet on February 9 and 10, and the institute proper will open with the evening session on Tuesday.

The guest leaders of this year's institute are Dr. Clarence Cranford, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, Washington, D. C., and Dr. Chalmer E. Faw, professor of New Testament, Bethany Biblical Seminary, Chicago, Ill.

This annual institute has become an inspirational highlight in the life of the ministers of the Southeastern Region of the Church of the Brethren. Pastors and leaders from all the fourteen districts will assemble to participate in the Bible lectures, pastoral forums, and informal discussion groups. Preparations are being made to accommodate a record attendance among the ministers and pastors of the region.

Alumni Workshop Held

AN ALUMNI OFFICERS' WORKSHOP or retreat was held on Saturday, October 11, 1958, with approximately twenty-four people present. Mr. Harold Harding, assistant director of the American Alumni Council, was the guest leader and gave three helpful and inspiring messages.

The new alumni officers' handbook was presented for the first time with a perusal of the contents given by the association's executive secretary.

Approximately seven of the fifteen active chapters were represented by at least one officer. Those chapters having officers in attendance were: Augusta County, Baltimore, Carroll County, North Rockingham, Richmond, Roanoke, and Tidewater.

Bess, Alumni Senior

Award Winner

CLEMENT A. BESS, a senior now residing in Bridgewater, Va., was last year's winner of the Alumni Senior Award of $100 and this year is having that amount applied to his college expenses.

Mr. Bess has been practically an "A" student throughout his years at Bridgewater. While carrying a normal college load, he has served as the efficient college night officer and watchman. He serves as chairman of the college's traffic committee. On Sundays Mr. & Mrs. Bess have charge of a nearby church.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bess are preparing to enter the teaching profession and are doing their practice teaching in the Turner Ashby High School, Dayton, Va.

Alumni Have VEA Coffee Hour

MORE THAN THIRTY ALUMNI took advantage of the Virginia Education Association Convention, October 30, in Richmond, Va., to gather for an informal coffee hour of fellowship and relaxing.

The beautiful George Wythe Room on the mezzanine of the Hotel John Marshall provided a wonderful setting for Bridgewater's annual alumni get-together at this convention. A lovely centerpiece of fall flowers was provided by the Richmond Alumni Chapter. From the college Mr. Fred Wampler, assistant professor of education, Mr. Philip Trout, assistant professor of music, and Mr. Replogle, alumni secretary, acted as hosts. Two trustees of the college, Miss Ferne Hoover and Mr. Orval Garber, were also present.

In the annual music production of the V.E.A. Convention, the ladies' and men's quartets participated in the all-state choral group while Tom Myers '59 was chosen as the narrator of the oratorio which was given.

New Trustees Elected

TWO CHURCH DISTRICTS, North and South Carolina and Second West Virginia, elected new persons to represent their districts on the board of trustees of the college.

Mr. Jack Scruggs, Campbell, S. C., was elected to succeed Holt Griffith, Relief, N. C., representing North and South Carolina. Mr. Scruggs is a native of Spartansburg County, South Carolina. His home church is the Melvin Hill (N. C.) Church, where he serves as a member of the local trustee board.

On February 12, 1937 he was married to Elsie Shields. They have five children, 3 girls and 2 boys. Two of the daughters, Mary Scruggs Graninger '60 and Barbara Scruggs '62, are students at Bridgewater College.

By occupation, Mr. Scruggs is a farmer, but his interests are many. He is a charter member and trustee of Camp Carolina, Linville, N. C. Particularly interested in civic affairs, Mr. Scruggs is a member of the local school board and a trustee of the Memorial Clinic, Melvin Hill, N. C. For recreation he leans toward camping and the mechanical side of life.

DORSEY A. CLAYTON '57, Kasson, West Virginia, is one of the youngest trustees elected to the board of Bridgewater College. He was elected August 22 by the Second District of West Virginia to represent that area, succeeding the Rev. H. O. Poling.

Dorsey was born August 12, 1936, at Morgantown, W. Va. He graduated from the Kasson, W. Va., High School in 1953 and from Bridgewater College in 1957 with a Bachelor of Arts degree. While in high school he was very active in the Future Farmers of America and received the highest state award. In college he excelled in cross country, baseball, and basketball. He was a four-letter man in the latter sport and was selected on the "Little Eight" All-Star Team in 1956.

In 1956 he married the former Rosalie Shaffer, and they have two sons, David Allen and Timothy Lee. Since college, he has been connected with the Acme Construction Company.

Religious Emphasis Week, October 27-30

REV. ROBERT W. KOONS, minister of the Zion Lutheran Church, Sunbury, Pa., and husband of Grace Bowman Koons '39, conducted the annual Religious Emphasis Week on the Bridgewater College campus, October 27-30.

The students and faculty appreciated his spiritual ministry during this special emphasis.

Chicago Chapter Meets

The Chicago Chapter of the Bridgewater College Alumni Association met on October 17 in the Bethany Seminary Speech Hall in Chicago.

The occasion was a "carry-in" buffet supper with fifty-one present. David Miller '57 had charge of a brief program, and Forest Wells '56, chapter president, served as master of ceremonies. Decorations, in charge of Mrs. Earle Fike, Jr., '51, were table runners in the college colors with bouquets of chrysanthemums.

An unusual winter banquet is being planned for all alumni in this Midwest area to be held in Chicago approximately January 24 in conjunction with a conference on higher education. A very attractive program, featuring alumni educators and college personnel, is being arranged.

The accompanying photograph of Chicago's recent buffet supper was furnished by Wendell Eller '48 and shows Rufus B. King '36, former alumni executive secretary, addressing the group. Estelle B. Rittenhouse '24BR, secretary of the chapter, served as reporter of this splendid event.

Alumni in the News

Cline '41 Area Director of Mid-East, Inc.

WILLIAM Z. CLINE '41 has been selected by the American Friends of the Middle East, Inc., as eastern area director with his offices at the Executive House, New York City.

Cline was born and raised in Harrisonburg, Va., receiving his B.A. degree from Bridgewater in 1941. He taught school at William Byrd High School, Vinton, Va., following his college graduation. He served four years in civilian public service and took graduate work at Bethany Biblical Seminary and Northwestern University.

For several years he was the promotional director of Church World Service and later was associated with the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP). For the past six years he has been public relations director of the American Friends of the Middle East. Mr. Cline is one of the original staff members of AFME, and his knowledge of the organization and his contribution to the program have been considerable. He has had many contacts with foreign delegates to the United Nations as well as with members of the communications media and the business world.

Mr. Cline is married and has one child, a four year old son.

Ikenberry '28 Public Relations Director

CECIL C. IKENBERRY '28 has been named director of public relations of the Rockingham National Bank, Harrisonburg, Va.

For more than 17 years Mr.

Ikenberry served as treasurer and business manager of Bridgewater College until his resignation last spring. During this time he served under four college presidents and guided the financial program of his alma mater. He also supervised the whole program of maintenance and college staff employment. The college is deeply indebted to him for his untiring service and financial leadership.

Cecil is a native of Daleville in Botetourt County, Virginia. He graduated from the Daleville Academy in 1924, from Bridgewater College in 1928, and received his B.D. degree from Bethany Biblical Seminary in 1938.

Mr. Ikenberry served as pastor of the First Church of the Brethren, Johnson City, Tenn., from 1938 to 1941. At the present time he is moderator of the Bridgewater Church of the Brethren and the Summit Church of the Brethren and represented his district on Standing Committee of the 1958 Des Moines Annual Conference.

He is a member of the Bridgewater Rotary Club, a member of the board of directors of the Bridgewater Plow Corp., and of the Rockingham County Tuberculosis Association.

Married to the former Effie Early '26, the Ikenberrys have two daughters, Carolyn Ikenberry Weaver '56 and Lavonne Ikenberry '59.

McDaniel '30, N.E.A. President

GEORGE ARTHUR McDANIEL '30, publisher of the Federalsburg, (Md.) Times, was elected president of the National Editorial Association at its business meeting last July in Detroit.

McDaniel, a native of Denton, Maryland, purchased the Times in 1931. Later a second newspaper was added with the founding of the Bridgeville (Del.) News, and then a third paper, the Upper Dorchester News, was purchased at Hurlock, Md.

George Arthur has always had the printing and the publishing business in his blood. He started his career working on a weekly newspaper and learned to operate a linotype while still in high school. Transferring from Blue Ridge College, he took time out at Bridgewater for debating, track, football, staffs of the B. C. Bee, Eagle Handbook, and the Ripples, plus many other activities. It was here, too, that a college romance developed which culminated in marriage to Miss Etta May Hottle, Manassas, Va., of the class of '31. The McDaniels have two children, George Arthur III, and Sonya, who attended Bridgewater the last two years.

After graduating from Bridgewater College in 1930, Mr. McDaniel worked for a year as a linotype operator and assistant to the publisher at Laurel, Del. A year later he launched out on his own. Always interested in the betterment of newspapers and particularly those in the weekly field, McDaniel soon became interested in press association work. He served as president of the Maryland Press Association from 1940 to 1943 and has been a member of the MPA board for the past 24 years. In 1951 he was named director of Region II of the National Editorial Association and was elected vice-president in 1957.

Mr. McDaniel is an active Rotarian, Mason and Shriner, and has been chairman of the county polio chapter for ten years. He also served in the Maryland State Legislature from 1946 to 1951.

As president of the National Editorial Association, a national newspaper group with 5,400 weekly and more than 700 daily affiliated newspapers, he will preside over its meetings this fall, winter, and next summer. Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel also attended the NEA Study Mission to the Brussel's World Fair and enjoyed the European tour, September 19 to October 5, sponsored by the NEA.

Derr '34 In Close Race

B. C.'S ALUMNI association president, John A. Derr '34, put up a strong fight in Maryland's November election for State Comptroller of the Treasury. After a hard and grueling campaign which took him into every section of the state, Derr gave Goldstein, the Democratic candidate, a close race for the state office. When all votes were counted, it was apparent that the Mayor of Frederick, Mr. Derr, had made a better contest of it than had the gubernatorial candidate but not quite as good as his senatorial running-mate, Glenn Beall, who was successfully re-elected. It is predicted, however, that this is not the last that the state of Maryland will hear from our alumni prexy.

Alumni Attend Church European Anniversary Celebration

A MONG THE HUNDREDS attending on last August 6 the European celebration of the 250th anniversary of the founding of the Church of the Brethren, there were more than two dozen Bridgewater alumni. The chief program was at Schwarzenau, Germany, where the Church of the Brethren was founded. A third of the official delegation of fifteen to this significant meeting were B. C. alumni. They included: Dr. S. Loren Bowman '34, Dr. Paul H. Bowman '10, Dr. M. R. Zigler '16, Mr. Rufus B. King '36, and Mr. Mark S. Roller '23.

While there was no opportunity for a formal meeting of alumni there because of the heavy schedule that all experienced, time was taken to get a picture of some who were in attendance. We are indebted to Rufus King '36 for the picture which appears below.

Some Bridgewater alumni who attended but are not in the picture are: Ralph Warner '60, Harry K. Zeller '36, L. Clyde Carter '56, Janet Eller Coffman '53, Ray E. Glick '56, Dr. Paul H. Bowman '10, Prof. and Mrs. Galen L. Stinebaugh (deceased).

Trustees Propose New Development Program

THE COLLEGE BOARD OF TRUSTEES, at its meeting on October 31-November 1, adopted a long-range development program to meet the ever-increasing student population and the needs for adequate facilities, endowment, and equipment to meet the challenge that lies ahead.

Enrollment Demands Expansion

After careful study, all indications are that Bridgewater must prepare to care for 750-800 students by 1970. Since 1953 there has been a steady increase of student population, running ahead of yearly estimates: 1953-411; 1954-440; 1955-479; 1956-510; 1957-526; 1958-545; or an average increase of 8 per cent. It is estimated, by conservative figures, that the rate of increase for the next decade will continue at least by 3 to 5 per cent.

The trustees, coming to grips with the present conditions and the immediate and future needs, took into account that additional faculty will be needed. To maintain and acquire the best faculty, salaries will need to continue to be raised. More than this, adequate facilities must be provided for present and future student needs.

Planning Under Way

The trustees gave approval to the over-all campus planning proposals of Mr. Meade Palmer, landscape architect and planning consultant. In this far-reaching general landscape proposal, a new library, home economics, student union, administration, and fine arts buildings were located along with four all-weather tennis courts and other proposed buildings and landscaping.

Included in the new development program are plans for increasing the endowment to two million dollars and the liquidating of the present debt. The needs of Bridgewater College as outlined by the board of trustees are:

Library	$ 500,000
Home economics building	100,000
A residence for 130 men students	500,000
A residence for 100 women students	450,000
Administration building	400,000
Student union building	300,000
Fine arts building	200,000
Swimming pool, four all-weather tennis courts, and needed improvements on Riverside Field	200,000
Endowment to:
Increase salaries
Add staff members
Increase library holdings
Increase scholarships
Encourage research	1,350,000
TOTAL	$4,000,000

Proposed First Phase

Members of the board of trustees expressed the feeling that the college should launch the first phase of this new development program by 1960 and seek to attain funds for the most pressing needs.

In this initial phase the library and home economics building, along with adequate endowment, will be the main objectives. Already the tentative plans for a modern library have been developed and were approved by the trustees at their November 1 meeting. The proposed building, needed immediately because of the critical inadequacies of the present accommodations, will be a three-level fire-proof building of extreme beauty. It will contain 30,400 square feet of floor space and provide by open-stacks for 102,000 volumes, and will seat 259 students. The proposed library, besides meeting the basic library needs, will contain a rare books archive, seminar rooms, micro-film service, audio-visual rooms, and other features.

The home arts building is especially needed because of the number of students now majoring and receiving their degree in this field. The women of the Southeastern Region of the Church of the Brethren have already secured almost half of the needed funds for this building.

Trustees to Seek Consultative Help

A big step in setting in motion this new development program was the decision of the board of trustees to retain a national professional agency to make a thorough survey and analysis of the college's finance potential and advise on the launching of a major campaign. On the basis of the recommendations received, a program to meet this four million dollar challenge will be devised for the decade of the sixties.

The trustees in taking this far-reaching step and looking ahead to the future will call on all alumni, church members, and friends to help achieve these needed goals. Corporations, foundations, and friends everywhere will be asked to assist in making possible additional funds to help meet the program as outlined. It is expected that more will be heard during the next year of preparation concerning specific phases and schedules which will be undertaken.

B. C.'s Alumni Fund And YOU

DURING THE NEXT SEVERAL MONTHS the Bridgewater College Alumni Fund drive will be intensified in an all-out effort to reach the $50,000 goal for 1958-59.

The Alumni Fund is the "thermometer" of the loyal support of graduates and non-graduates of Bridgewater, Blue Ridge, and Daleville Colleges to their alma maters and the undergirding of Christian higher education at B. C.

The financial support of foundations and corporations is dependent on the loyal support of the alumni of the college. The first question often asked by a foundation or industry is, "How well do your alumni support the college?" Only you can help answer that question.

A Growing Loyalty

In 1956-57, 805 alumni contributed in cash and pledges, $23,718.22. During 1957-58 the record was better with 831 alumni giving $31,463.13 in cash. The percentage of alumni response was 16.1 per cent of all alumni participating. This is a commendable record for cash gifts over that of the past several years. The question arises, however, where were the other 83.9 per cent who did not participate? Were you one of them?

Chapter and Area Emphasis

Already several chapters have appointed a chapter or area fund chairman who will organize a corp of workers to contact a number of alumni in their area who will be assigned to them. No alumni fund gifts will be solicited or collected. The purpose will be to encourage all alumni to send some gift to the college to help reach this year's goal. Recognition will be attempted for the chapter or area having the best record of giving. Chapter officers are to send to the alumni office the name of the chapter alumni fund chairman as soon as he is appointed. A meeting of fund chairmen and others is being considered for early in the year.

Class Agents Being Appointed

A second prong of the Loyalty Fund drive will be through the alumni classes, especially those in reunion this year. Several class agents have already been appointed, and it is hoped that by the end of this year's fund emphasis many more class agents will be selected. These people will contact or organize a group of classmates to help contact all members of their class to encourage them to make a gift this year. Last year the class of 1933, in its 25th anniversary celebration, led all others in the amount of contributions ($1,591.50) and tied with the class of 1956 in the number of contributors (30). When it came to the highest average amount given, the class of 1890 topped the list with $300.

Getting Off the Ground

If this year's alumni fund goal is to be reached, it must get off the ground with a number of sizeable gifts from a large group of alumni friends. While the Sustaining Fund denotes those who give $50 in cash per year, thought is being given to designating a "century club" of those who give $100, and perhaps other levels for $500 and $1000 gifts. One hundred alumni giving $100 each will really put the Alumni Fund through the first phase of its launching. Then the power of many alumni gifts of fifty and twenty-five dollars will make this year's Alumni Fund goal a reality. Is it reaching for the moon? Surely, but that is not as impossible as it used to be. Bridgewater alumni can reach their "moon" before it happens in space if all will work to make it possible.

Needs Are Acute

It is not just a matter of reaching a "goal," but that goal represents the alumni share in Bridgewater's need to meet the challenge before her. Because of immediate necessity, the new health and physical education building was constructed. Though incomplete, it is one of the finest in the state. To make possible the construction, a bond issue was floated plus a bank indebtedness incurred. These bonds must be retired each year on the basis of approximately $50,000 a year. The alumni can assure the yearly payment of these bonds by raising the Alumni Fund $50,000 cash goal. Besides this bond payment, equipment must be secured, new buildings erected, salaries stabilized, endowment increased. All this you can aid by your gift.

Alumnus of The Year Award

EVERY ALUMNUS OF BRIDGEWATER, Blue Ridge, and Daleville Colleges has the privilege of suggesting a worthy alumnus to the award committee to be honored with the Alumnus of the Year Award. The committee, composed of the president of the Alumni Association, the president of the college, and the alumni executive secretary, will study the nominations and bring to the alumni board of directors one or more nominations for their selection. In nominating an alumnus for this award, consideration should be given to vocational achievements and loyal devotion to the college. Send to the alumni office before March 1 your nomination along with reasons for his or her selection.

What does all this mean to you? If you have already sent in your annual gift, your fellow alumni appreciate it, and you know you are doing your part. If you can add to it by bringing it up to the Sustaining Club of $50 or the Century Club of $100 or above, do it at once. If you have not sent in your alumni contribution yet, it means you ought to get out that old checkbook and help point the Alumni Fund to the "moon" by your own high-powered fuel. Will B. C. alumni reach their goal? It's up to you!

Make One Dollar Worth Two

THIS IS NOT a counterfeiting proposition or a fast-buck sleight of hand but a new and excellent way that industry has of helping alumni help Bridgewater College.

The corporations listed below are among the more than 28 companies that have agreed to match the gifts of employees to Bridgewater College. Some will match only gifts of alumni of the college while others will match any employee's gift.

The firms are:

- Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corp.
- Bank of New York
- Bonwit Teller
- Burlington Industries
- Campbell Soup Co.
- Continental Oil Co.
- Dow Chemical Co.
- The Generals Foods Corp. and subsidiaries
- The General Electric Corp.
- B. F. Goodrich Co.
- W. T. Grant Co.
- Gulf Oil Corp.

Already Bridgewater has benefited from two matching gifts under this program. If you are employed by any of these firms, inquire about the procedures for making a matching gift to Bridgewater College.

The Student Senate President Looks At His College

... Richard Gordon '59,
New Carlisle, Ohio

THE COLLEGE SEEKS TO DEVELOP the student socially, intellectually, spiritually and ethically. The central purpose is the intellectual development of the individual through an educational process, exposing him to ideas and encouraging in him a commitment to a self-chosen system of values.

This is the goal of the college, its administration and its faculty, but what about the student in this regard? Among these three components of the educational community — the faculty, administration, and student body — the student and his education must be the focus of attention from each of the other areas. All three are committed to the college goal, and the student, by necessity, actively participates in his own education and is not merely a "passive receptionist."

Student government has a very important part to play in this process. It is in the unique position of having immediate access to the resources of the faculty, administration, and student body. Because the members of student government are the students themselves, familiar with and concerned about the goals and desires of the student body, student government must shoulder its share of responsibility in helping the student in his daily pursuit of a college education.

By pointing out the various phases of the student government organization, I will attempt to illustrate how we here at Bridgewater are working toward fulfillment of this purpose.

The Student Senate has been organized on a committee basis and strives to maintain good relations between faculty, administration, and students and between students themselves. There are also other Standing Committees — Social, Dining Hall, and Pep — who, along with the college paper, radio, Honor Council, and Student Christian Association, play major roles in the social life and personal development of the student in all phases of college activity.

The attitudes of the student are determined by all these factors and many others. Good advanced programming is a must if students are to be made to feel a part of the school, a part of the student body, and whether or not he is proud to be such. This year the students here at Bridgewater have the positive attitude. School spirit is high and the feeling of pride and loyalty for Bridgewater College is deeply embedded. This year's student body is indeed a credit to this institution and is one that will not soon be forgotten.

Here the student has a name and not a number; here the student knows the warm fellowship of the small school; here everyone is working with pride toward a better B.C.; here the "ideal" in student government, student-faculty relations, etc., is not so far from reality; here we have a lot to be proud of; here we the students are proud to be a part of B. C.

In my four years at B. C. I'll never forget this year nor the great honor and privilege of serving the student body as its president.

EAGLE SPORTS PARADE . . .

Football Team in Disappointing Season

THE EAGLE FOOTBALL TEAM finished out a disappointing season with a record of 1 win, 6 defeats, and 1 tie. This year's team was strong on defense but weak on offense.

Perhaps the high points of the season were the first game, played against Hampden-Sydney under the lights at Harrisonburg, and the Homecoming game. In the Hampden-Sydney game the Eagles held the Mason-Dixon Conference champions to two touchdowns. In the Homecoming game against West Virginia Wesleyan, the Eagles had to settle for a 6-6 tie when in the last two minutes the Bobcats knotted the score with a long pass.

Harriers Have Good Season

"DOC" JOPSON'S cross-country team had a new experience this year in losing the first two meets of the season before breaking into the win column. Both Norfolk William & Mary and Lynchburg were surprisingly strong to edge out the B. C. thinclads by close margins.

Scores for the season: (low score wins)

B.C.	39	Norfolk William & Mary	18
B.C.	29	Lynchburg	23
B.C.	20	Hampden-Sydney	48
B.C.	15	Gallaudet	50
B.C.	18	American University	43
B. C.	33	Catholic University	22

Virginia Little Eight Meet (at Bridgewater):

Roanoke 30, Norfolk W & M 41, Bridgewater 78, Lynchburg 100, Hampden-Sydney 127

Mason-Dixon Conference Meet (at Bridgewater): (first five)

Roanoke 43, Bridgewater 92, Johns Hopkins 101, Loyola 103, Catholic U. 109.

Court Team Returns

THIS YEAR'S BASKETBALL team will see all of the regulars back for action with the addition of several likely prospects from the freshmen ranks and football team.

The Eagles will face a heavy twenty-game schedule with returnees Sam Ritchie, Jim Reedy, Fred Diehl, Ed Thomas, Don Rader, and Wilfred Fulcher, plus last year's star junior varsity team and newcomers Lindy Woolfolk and Jim Wilson.

Danny Geiser will again direct the varsity team with Jimmy Utterback '53, assistant in athletics and intramurals, to guide the baby eagles.

The basketball squad opened its season on November 30 with an alumni evening of special recognition of B. C.'s former athletes and a basketball scrimmage. Officially the season opened December 1 against Juniata College, with A. U. on the 4th, and Southern Conference's Virginia Military Institute on December 6.

A basketball innovation at B. C. will be the first Bridgewater Invitational Tournament to be held in the new gym January 2 and 3. There is also a strong possibility that the popular Mason-Dixon Tournament may be brought to the Bridgewater campus on February 26, 27, and 28. This will be the first time for it to leave Baltimore or Washington in many years and will bring the best of the Mason-Dixon Conference to Bridgewater.

The season's basketball schedule is as follows:

December

1	Juniata College	Away
4	American University	Home
6	Virginia Military	Institute Away
10	Richmond Professional	Institute Home
15	Hampden-Sydney College	Home
